

I go to Eurobank

Eurobank is located in many places across Greece.

Eurobank is also located on 35 Andrea Papandreou Street, Marousi,
The Mall Athens.

People go to the bank
when they have business involving money.

They go to the bank to pay electricity,
telephone, water bills etc.

They go there to get a credit card or open a bank account.

I can also go to the bank.

There is a reception there.

Customers go to the reception.

They say what they need.

Είμαστε η τράπεζα που δημιουργεί αξία για όλους.
Με κεντρικό σημείο αναφοράς τον άνθρωπο,
την καινοτομία, την πρόοδο,
τη δύναμη να προχωράς
και με όραμα πρωτοπορίας...

υποδεχόμαστε την πρώτη μέρα της νέας μας εποχής.

For customers to be served,
they need to have a priority number.

They get the priority number from the priority system.

Customers may ask the employees at the reception for more information about the priority system.

I can also do that.

There is also a small screen on the wall of the reception area.
The priority numbers appear on this screen.

Sometimes, customers go to the machines to carry out transactions on their own.

Customers go there to talk to and ask for advice from the bank employees in case they want to invest their money.

I can also go there, if need be.

Sometimes, it might be crowded at the bank.

Some people are annoyed by the noise.

The crowd and the noise can be annoying to me, too.

If I want, I can leave.

I can go to the bank on another day.

It's OK.

And don't forget.

Depending on what people want to do at the bank, they must have some documents with them.

For example, their ID card or a copy of their tax number.

Before they go to the bank, they should have with them the documents needed.

This is what I will do, too.
