- ❖ Collection of Subscription Fee: a subscription fee is owed regardless of whether the Programme has been used that particular month. It is collected through the Account by an automatic debiting that takes place on the 1st business day of every calendar month and concerns the Programme provided on the previous calendar month. In the case that for any reason the credit balance in the Account is not sufficient on this date, the benefits of the each time Programme will be automatically deactivated without a notification to the Customer. An attempt will then be made to collect the due subscription on a daily basis. During the time that the Programme's benefits are deactivated, the transactions and services of the Account are priced according to the Bank's Price List. The Programme will be automatically reactivated as soon as the amount of the due subscriptions is collected. With regard to the collection of the subscription for the Programme, the Customer provides the Bank with the standing order and authorization for the latter to debit the Account with the amount of monthly subscription as it stands at the time of the debiting. This order also applies in the case that the Programme has been deactivated due to non-payment of the due subscription or in the case that the Customer has exited the Programme due to a subscription owed for the previous period.
- ❖ Any transactions that have not been made within the month on which they are provided, they shall not be carried over to the following month.
